BRITT-NELSON FIGHT.

Jeffries Says He Has Accepted Offer of $1,000 to Act as Referee. (Associated Press.)

San Francisco, Sept. S .- "I have ac epted the offer of $1,000 to referee the contest between Britt and Nelson, and I will be the third man in the ring Satur-day, and that is all there is to it," said the former champion, James J. Jeffries, as he stepped off the train from Los as he stepped off the train from Los Angeles last night.

"I understand that Nolan fears that Nelson will not get a square deal, but the public have demanded that I officiate, knowing that I will give both sides a square deal. If I suspect that the least bit of crookedness is going on I will call the fight off in an instant."

It is believed Nelson will be induced to agree on Jeffries as a referee, and that the deadlock will be broken at the meeting of the fighters to be held to-day.

George Siler, the veteran referee who was spoken of as an umpire in the event that Jeffries could not be finally decided on, has arrived from Chicago, accompanied by Nelson's father.

All the papers avoid the use of the word "mob," and openly sympathize with the destruction of the police stations.

The city was quiet throughout the day, although there was excitement and a tensity of feeling everywhere manifested. Nightfall brought a verification of the prediction of renewed trouble. The streets in the centre of the city began filling at dark. The first disturbance occurred in the vicinity of the residence of Minister of Home Affairs Catsura. A mob again attempted to fire the structure, but were restrained by the guards. Considerable roughness and Fighting Followed.

Apparently adars perfectly satisfied, so that it only remains for the buildings to be constructed, the plant installed, and Indians engaged to catch the dog fish necessary for the manufacture of fertilizer, before the business may be considered established. However, these are details that will require considerable thought and some time to attend to, so that it may be several months before the base of the commission while in Victoria Board of Trade, for at the last meeting of the board it was decided to offer these quarters for the use of the commissioners while in the city. A VISITING JOURNALIST.

Smith From "Way Down in Alabama" Enjoying a Vacation Here.

Jas. Smith, president of the Birmingham Ledger Publishing Company, is on a visit to the city. Mr. Smith does not hall from Merry England, as the name of his home city would imply, but from sniny Alabama. To the northerner Alabama spells primarily cotton and aggrees.
It is therefore somewhat of a surprise to find that Birmingham is industrially an understudy of its great namesake, being the seat of most important iron and coal industry.

An immense moutnain of iron ore lies at the back of the city, and from this several dozen of iron companies are quarrying the raw material for conversion into steel and iron. Side by side, with this deposit are what are regarded as inexhaustible supplies of coal, together with other constituent parts which enter into the manufacture of steel. The result is that Birminghamites claim they with other constituent parts which enter into the manufacture of steel. The result is that Birminghamites claim they can produce steel and iron cheaper than in any other part of the world.

The effect of the development of these resources has been a marked increase in the population and other industries of the place, and a-city of upwards of one hundred thousand people has sprung into existence. There is 112 miles of street railway in the place, equiped with 90-pound rails, and the other public attilities are in an equally efficient shape.

pound rails, and the other phone unificate in an equally efficient shape.

Mr. Smith publishes a spiendid evening paper, The Ledger, and now has his staff so well organized that he can take a month's holiday or more each season. This year he came to Canada, working west over the C. P. R. and noting the bounteous wheat crop of the Canadan plains.

He also spent several weeks in the Rockies, visiting at the different C. P. R. resorts of Loggan, Field, Banff, etc., and esting his physical prowess by climbing fount Agnes. He is charmed with the Mount Agnes. He is Rockies and the coast.

EZRA KENDALL.

He Appeared Last Evening in the Vic-toria Theatre in "Weather Beaten Benson."

The Victoria theatre last evening was not crowded. There was, however, a fair attendance to hear Ezra Wendall in "Weather Beaten Benson." The plot of the play is simple, just sufficient to set forth the leading character in the title. There is a rich fund of humor running through the part of Benson taken by Mr. Kendall. It is not of the rollicking kind in any respect, but, on the contrary, is of a quiet type, appearing without previous advertisement. By act alone without words he sustained the comedy on occasions for considerable time. The part is well adapted to Kendali's style, he filing the role perfectly.

The discoverer and manufacturer of that he would have failed. The arrival of a long expected rain which revives the company's potatoes makes Benson inde-

The rain scene last night was a very pretty one, closing with a heavy down-pour for which Benson shows his apprehation by sitting out in it with the rain falling upon him, catching it in a tin pan and drinking it.

Love of children, which is always appreciated by an andisec, played an important part in the comedy. A child in the role of Little Miss Moses is a very important one throughout. At was taken by little Miss Edith Taliaferro, who is said to be only ten years of age. She acted the part well.

The support given Mr, Kendall was of average talent. The stage settings were excellent and where possible to be introduced rich costumes were worn by some of the ladies.

GRATIFYING SUCCESS IN PRINCIPAL SOURCES

Canada Has Enjoyed Eight Years of Very Prosperous Finance-The Reduction of Taxation

Ottawa, Sept. 2 .- The growth of revor who is auxious to see that his country is prosperous, and on this point the ures which are more than usually inter-ificrense of $2,200,000 over the net revenue of 1871. In 1896 the gross revenue had increased to $36,618,591, whilst the fixed charges had increased to $27,213,520, leaving a net revenue of $9,405,071, being $1,148,382 less than in the year 1881, so that whilst apparently the revenue had been increasing in the sixteen years, the spending power of the country had been going back. If anything werewanting to show that the gross revenue is not the true test, these figures must of the country only increased 20 per cent from 1871 to 1881, and actually decreas ed over 10 per cent, from 1881 to 1896 in the eight years from 1896 to 1904, is increased nearly 400 per cent.

This is a most curious and instructive statement and one which is well worthy of mature consideration. When it comes to the consideration of details it will appear that the receipts show that in all the principal somrées of revenue there has been a gratifying increase. Customs, excise and the post office all show considerable increases. Everything goes to show that Canada has enjoyed eight years of certainly very prosperous finance. The statistics of trade and commerce, the development of her banking institutions, the discounts in the banks, the transportation statistics of the railway and stedimbout companies, all join in demonstrating that Canada is enjoying and is likely to continue to enjoy a very large measure of prosperity.

It may be objected that this increased revenue is obtained by means of increased revenue is obtained by means of increased raxation, the charge has been made and no doubt will be made again. It cannot be too often pointed out that it is possible to have high taxation and reduced revenue. The figures for the years 1881 and 1806 given above show that that is possible to have high taxation and reduced revenue. The figures for the years 1881 and 1806 given above show that this was the case, and that those who have made the charge that the people are to-day being taxed more than they were in 1896 have never moved to reduce one single item of the tariff. On the contrary, their continual cry and been to put more on and to return to the old conditions of high taxation and lowering spending power. The average rate of taxation is 13 per cent. lower than it was in 1896. Then the rate was $18.28; to-day it is $15.88. So that here is a proof of another finance axiom, that those who have made the charge

$10,553,463, and it may be remarked, in passant, that this first revenue showed an increase of $2,200,000 over the net revenue of 1871. In 1896 the gross revenue had increased to $26,048,591, whilst the fixed charges had increased to $27,213,520, leaving a net revenue of $9,405,071, being $1,148,392 less than in the year 1881, so that whilst apparently the revenue had been increasing in the sixteen years; the spending power of the country had been going back. If anything were wanting to show that the gross revenue is not the true test, these figures must surely supply it. During the whole of this period the country had been under. Conservative management and the National Policy had enjoyed mainterrupted sway, ad yet the country actually was poerer at the close than it had been at the beginning of the term. In 1904 the gross revenue was $70,603,817, whilst the fixed charges were $34,808,281, leaving a net revenue of $35,861,336, or an increase over the net revenue of 1896 or $25,455,465. Thus it will be seen that whilst the spending power of the country poly increased 20 per cent, from 1871 section 400. Thus it will be seen that whilst the spending power of the country only increased 20 per cent, from 1871 to 1881, and actually decreased over 10 per cent, from 1881 to 1896, in the eight years from 1886 to 1904, it increased nearly 400 per cent." Physician Says It Ought to Be Natural

"It is a good working hypothesis to regard the natural life of a man as 100 years," said Sir James Crichton-Browne at a meeting of the Public Health Congress in London. The subject of his address was "Senility."

"Every man is entitled to a century of life, and every woman to a century of life and every woman to a century."

"Every man is entitled to a century of life, and every woman to a century and a little more, for women live longer than unen. Every child should be brought up impressed with the obligation of living to 100, and taught to avoid the irregularities of living which tend to prevent the attainment of this ambition. "Life is frequently, prolonged to 100 years, for the centenarian is not, the tarity, he is supposed to be. Among the deaths registered in 1904, fifty-three were those of reputed centenarians, of whom thirty-seven were women and sixteen men. "In the lives of many eminent writers, statesmen and poets their chief accomplishments were achigged in later middle age or old age, and it is certain that a century of healthy and vigorous life life could be attained."

"How to live to a centenarian" was the next point lonched upon by Sir James, who said that if old age were to be attained, a good start in life must be given, and hence the importance of the question if infant feeding and milk sup-

THE PRINCE'S TOUR.

Outline of the Coming Journey Through

The following is an outline of the Prince of Wales's forthcoming four in India. Pive months will be spent in different parts of the Indian Empire, and it is estimated that His Royal Highness will travel over 11,000 miles.

The battleship Renown with the Prince on board will reach Bombay on November 1th. A week will be spent in the western capital, and a Durbar will November 9th. A week will be spent in the western capital, and a Durbar will be held, which will be attended by all the great ones of India.

On November 16th a 600-mile journey by rail to Ajmere in Rajputana will be made. Udaipur will be reached on November 18th, and Jaipur on November 18th, a Jaipur on November 18th, a sist to Bikanir will follow, and Lahore in the Punjab will welcome the royal visitor on November 28th.

Still travelling northwards, the Prince will arrive at Peshawar on the northwest frontier, on December 2nd, and will pay a three days visit to Jammu in South Kasshmir. The royal party is due at Delhi on December 7th, and at Agra nine days later, while the Rajput fortress and Bhurtpore will be visited on December 20th, and Christmas will be passed at Gwallor.

Lucknow will be reached on December 26th, and Calcutta on the 29th.

Lucknow will be reached on December 20th, and Calcutta on the 20th. From Calcutta x hasty visit will be paid to Darjiling, among the Himalayas. Rangoon, the Burmese capital, will be reached on January 13th, Mandalay on the 18th, and Madras (on the return journey) on January 24th. Bangalore, Mysore, Hyderabad, and Ellore and Benares are next on the programme, followed by Nepal, on the borders of Tibet, and ultimately Simla, the summer without a thought that we were adding one to the scanty sum of human senses. The bicycles, in their time, and then the automobiles, the surface cars and the cabs, the lumbering drays and the bounding tradesmen's carts have been our teachers. The mere instinct of self-preservation has been the steady stimulus to our progress. And now at last we learn proudly that we are the unconscious possessors of this sixth sense.—New York Globe.

Plucky Climbers Scale the Alps In Search of Birds.

Eagle hunting in the Alps is a perilous

Scores of plucky elimbers have been trying to scale the almost inaccessible rocks on which the nest of the engles are built, in the hope of capturing englets. In the Beraese Oberland and in the Grisons, their efforts have led to some savage encounters with the parent eagles, and to some wonderful escapes. In the Engadine an English sportsman has captured a fine young eagle in the Val Chamuera. The nest was on the face of an almost unclimbable rock, protected from above by an overhanging

There has been a continual improve-ment in steam-engine economy, while the infroduction of gas-engines and central power station of high efficiency will go far to reduce the wastes of carlier methods. It is believed that the substitution of the best modern methods for obtaining energy from fuel would refourth the present annual consumption, and this aione would materially prolong the period above mentioned. While it may not be pleasant to realize that the actual stock of fael is being used up at such a rate as has been determined, it is altogether possible that long before the pinch is felt other sources of energy will have been discovered, and possibly it may require some such incentive as a waning coal supply to aid in the development of new sources of light, heat and

Although frequently explained, the question is one that evidently continues to puzzle a great many people—in which respect it is first cousin to that other much-debated fact, that the portion of the neithery of a rolling cartthat other much-debated rack, that the portion of the periphery of a rolling cartwheel that is near the ground is moving more slowly with relation to the earth than is the rest of the periphery. In the case of the two wheels on any axle of a railroad or trolley car that is passing around a curve it is evident that in a given length, say 100 feet of the curve, reserved on a line lying centrally bemeasured on a line lying centrally be-tween the two rails, the inner rail will be shorter than the outer rail, and this for the reason that it is struck to a radius that is about four and three-quar-ters feet shorter. Now, when a pair of wheels passes around the curve it fol-lows that, because of the difference in

It is probable that the excessive w of rails on curves is due chiefly to slipping of the wheels. Not long of rails on curves is one chient to slipping of the wheels. The roadmass of the Boston Elevated road. rails averages only forty-four days, the head of the rail wearing down from 0.60 to 0.77 of an inch in that time. The great inconvenience caused by the constantly recurring repairs led the company to experiment with harneded steel rails, and when some nickel steel rails were put on the curves the wear was reduced to 0.53 of an inch in 204 days. A manganese-steel rail is now being used with good results, and the wear of these is only about 33 per cent. as rapid as that of the nickel steel rails and about 6 per cent. as rapid as that of the carbon steel rails.

familiar More vital and interesting should be the views of a Russian who cas called upon to cope with them and who failed; especially when that Rus who laticu; especial, sian is Kouropatkin, one of the greatest of living authorities, from an academi-cal standpoint, on the science of warcal standpoint, on the science of war-fare. The London Times correspondent with the Japanese army has collected some of Kouropatkin's letters to his of-ficers, and, commenting on them, says ontkin was a schoolmaster. e. He was confronted with

Stupendous Task

Stupendous Task of educating his officers while the bullets were flying, and no doubt, now that the war is over, essayists and historians will lay stress on this virial point. To return to Kouropatkin's letters, the following quotation throws a light on the Japanese method of hill fighting:

"The Japanese never follow the valley, but, with a narrow front, they approach over the hills, and; if possible, turn our flank. This is good practice in Manchuria, where the trefid of the hills is this way and that. If they find that the line of their advance is cut, or that they have to cross a river, a creek, or a valley, they stop and wait for the or a valley, they stop and wait for the coming of night. They are very quick and skilful in the use of mountain guns, which accompany their infantry and most unexpectedly appear on our flank. On extraordinary occasions they even appear n our firing line." Of the work of his adversaries on the

of the work of many given being the Japanese try to occupy these or any other strategical points one by one. In order to deceive us as to the object of their attack they make demonstrations at other points with many guns and few troops. Sometimes this demonstration troops. Sometimes this demonstration will continue for days and nights with their main force. Usually they attack in the night. If they gain the position, daybrak finds them entrenched."

By such feints and their diabolical rushes in the night the Japanese expected to take Port Arthur in August. They did get 203-Metre Hill, as we now know, and their failure to hold it meant four mouths more of four months more of

Terrible Work.

The method involved is as old as warfare;

The method involved is as old as warfare; and not upon the idea, but upon its execution, depends success. The Japanese infantry, hiding in gullies, cornfields, villages, or groves, never betrays its position. The action of the guns and troops who play the deceiver to the right and the left is earnest to the point of making heavy sacrifices if need be. That is in the nature of Japanese thoroughness. "During the advance," he goes on to say, "troops appear here and there with big distances between them, and gradually others appear behind them until they have collected a whole line. But if a Russian shell falls between them they quickly scatter. At the village of Shan-lan-2u, on October 16th (in the Battle of the Sha-ho) two or three battalions appeared, and shrappel made them instantly disappear. Then they hattalions appeared, and shrapnel made them instantly disappear. Then they came up in squads of three and five, and, dashing into the kao-liang, each made a bundle and then ran towards the Russians. Sometimes they seemed to be running very rapidly, and again they seemed to be taking their time, always 50 of 60 steps apart. At first we thought that they were trying to hide themselves with the kao-liang. Later we found, when they stopped, that they were using

A TRULY IDEAL WIFE

Vigorous Health Is the Great Source of the Power to Inspire and Encourage —All Women Should Seek It.

One of the most noted successful and richest men of this century, in a recent article, has said, "Whatever I am and whatever success I have attained in this world I owe all to my wife. From the day I first knew her she has been an inspiration, and the greatest helpmate of my life."

Mrs. Bessie Ainsley

To be such a successful wife, to retain the love and admiration of her husband, to inspire him to make the most of himself, should be a woman's constant study.

If a woman finds that her energies are flagging, that she gets easily tired, dark shadows appear under her eyes, she has backache, headaches, bearingdown pains, nervousness, whites, irregularities or the blues, she should start at once to build up her system by a tonic with specific powers such as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.
Following we publish by request a letter from a young wife:
Dear Mrs. Pinkham:

"Ever since my child was born I have suffered, as I hope few women ever have, with inflammation, female weakness, bearing down pains, backache and wretched healaches. It affected my stomach so I could not enjoy my meals, and half my time was spent in bed.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me a well woman, and I feel so grateful that I am glad to write and tell you of my marvelous recovery. It brought me health, new life and vitality."—Mrs. Bessie Ainsley, till South 10th Street, Tacoma, Wash. What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Mrs. Ainsley it will do for every sick and ailing woman.

If you have symptoms you don't understand write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free and always helpful.

After Grounding of Steamer Seventeen Men Put Out in Boat, But Never Returned.

Charleston, S. C., Sept. 7.—The British steamship Tropic, 2.340 tons, Captain Barber, has arrived here after a voyage lasting nearly three months. The second mater purser and fifteen seamen data collected by them the final report will be prepared by W. R. Ingalis. Sailing from Valparaiso, Chile, June 28th, the Troic met with bad weather at once and on June 28th, while off Cape Putu, and about lifteen miles from Constitution, the ship went hard aground not over 30th yards from the beach. High seas were running. The second mate, purser and fifteen seamen put out in the first lifebout for Constitution for aid, but never returned. All night the seas dashed over the Tropic, and the twenty men on board momentarily expected the end. Morning brought hope is the strt of men on shore, but there seemed no way to get to the ship. The captain with a kite senf a cord to shore, and next a line and then a hawser reached the land. Over this the men went ashore. When the storm abated some what the vessel was found to be undamaged. A naval courf exonerated the captain and crew. The grounding is accredited to a deviation of the ship's compasses and the prevalence of a strong inset current off Putu in latitude 35.00 and longitude 72.20 west.

The Tomic was twenty-eight days overdue.

Prof. McEwen, who will begin a week's engagement at the Victoria theatre on Monday evening, is handicapped by peculiar circumstances. His reputation as a hypnotist is so great that his talents along other lines are completely overshadowed. As a matter of fact, few are aware that in his feats of legerdemain he is without a peer. There is nothing Herrmann, the wizard, or Heller ever did that he does not easily duplicate. When he goes down in the audience and picks a live canary bird from some lady's hair, makes it disappear and appear again in the most unexpected places, and finally completes the pretty deception by pulling it not only in two, but into two lively cangries, and then shows them to you in a cage which he has never been near, the mind is utterly bewildered. This is one of the many, as difficult tricks, and his feats of palming are simply indescribable.

Miss Irene Franklin, a cornetist, assists, the Great McEwen company, Miss Franklin renders both classical and popular selections, and always wins the hearty applause of the audience.
